

PRODUCT STEWARDSHIP POLICY

- It is the intention of Nexchem to conduct its operations in line with the principle of Product Stewardship.
- Nexchem is active in identifying its customer's usage and knowing its suppliers' products so that there is a continuity of support for the products, from raw materials through manufacture/usage, through to ultimate disposal. This is done with due regard to legislation, industry best practice, product stewardship guidelines, health & safety, environment, and security.
- Priority is given to the Health, Safety Environment and Security of all employees, all contractors, and the local community.
- The correct and responsible usage of all our products is a key aim.
- We only supply to customers that can store, use, and dispose of the products that we supply, in line with the requirements of maintaining the responsible usage of all materials.
- In line with REACH proposals the materials that we supply are subject to assessments as to whether it is practical to follow the Elimination, Substitution, Reduction route.
- Nexchem are also active in the identification of products and end usage to aid the EU in producing suitable product dossiers (REACH) on all the chemicals that we supply.
